Driver & Vehicle Offices Statewide to Close Temporarily

All motor vehicle offices statewide will be closed July 20-24 while the computer system used by the Minnesota Department of Driver and Vehicle Services is replaced.

The new system, dubbed MNLARS (Minnesota Licensing and Registration System) promises to record transactions in real time and transfers of vehicle titles will be sped up to a two to three week turnaround. The new system is expected to standardize the process and reduce paper work.

In 2009, the State contracted with Mathtech, Inc. to lead the effort to create the new system. In 2012, the State contracted with Hewlett-Packard to design, build, and impliment MNLARS. Driver license features are currently in development and are expected to be implimented in 2018.

Sec of State Simon Misled Public on Voter Information Request

In last week's edition of the Record, I highlighted the "fake news" story published in the Star Tribune concerning the President's Election Integrity Commission information request.

Publisher's Column

John Kyslyczyn

Their article, raising fear among the general public, implied the state was being forced by the federal government to turn over what voters perceived as their private personal information. The article painted Secretary of State Steve Simon as the protector of the people and would be their champion to stop this abuse.

The Star Tribune painted the false scenario that the release of voter registration information was a political decision to be made by Mr. Simon. In fact, the release of this information is a matter of law, governed by Minnesota Statutes 201.091.

I clearly stated that entire premise of the Star Tribune article was dishonest. The reporter failed to do even basic college level research prior to putting pen to paper. In the reporter's rush to attack anything Trump, she failed to exercise any kind of due diligence on behalf of her readers.

At the time I wrote my comments, I was missing one key piece of information — the actual letter sent from the President's Election Integrity Commission to Mr. Simon. Wasn't it rather odd that a copy of the letter was not on Mr. Simon's website or his Facebook page? The letter was often referenced as some sort of smoking gun. So why not share it? I now have that letter and it raises even more questions about his.

In Mr. Simon's public statements, he took a strong stand against releasing Minnesota's voter registration data. The Star Tribune reported him stating, "When Minnesotans registered to vote, they didn't ever think their personal information would end up in some federal database in Washington, D.C."

I believe the President's Election Integrity Commission information request letter was never widely shared by Mr. Simon because it ran counter to the public statements he was making. He misled the citizens of Minnesota about the content of the letter he received. I suspect that he intentionally made his

MN Dept of Education Releases 2016 Statewide Library Statistics

Each April, libraries across Minnesota are required to report their statistics for the previous calendar year to the Minnesota Department of Education.

The statistics show the usage of libraries in terms of circulation and personal visits, acquisition of new and weeding out of older materials, computer use by the public, and attendance for events.

Generally, over the past decade many libraries have seen a substantial downturn in materials circulated, particularly adult materials. Attendance for children's reading programs and meetings for adults tend to be on the upswing.

The table below shows a portion of the Minnesota Department of Education's compilation of libraries' statistics. We are including 2016 numbers compared to 2014. — ACR staff inflammatory comments to score political points with his supporters and to get free publicity in the media. It worked because the mainstream media falsely painted him as a champion of the people who was standing up to President Trump.

Mr. Simon's fifteen minutes of fame on this issue came at the cost of lying to the people of the State of Minnesota. As the letter from the President's Election Integrity Commission clearly stated in two areas, they were only seeking voter registration information that was publicly available in each state.

An honest response to the letter would have been to inform the Commission that the information should be requested by a registered Minnesota voter, and then list the categories of information that is public under Minnesota law. In addition, a remember to include a check for $48 and wait two weeks for delivery.

Mr. Simon owes an apology to the citizens of Minnesota. He is elected to carry out the job of running his office. The public expects that it will be done in an honest and efficient manner without the political grandstanding and less than fully honest comments.

Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

June 28, 2017

The Honorable Steve Simon
Secretary of State
100 Rev. Dr. MLK Jr. Blvd.
St. Paul, MN 55155-1299

Dear Secretary Simon,

I serve as the Vice Chair for the Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity ("Commission"), which was formed pursuant to Executive Order 13799 of May 11, 2017. The Commission is charged with studying the registration and voting processes used in federal elections and submitting a report to the President of the United States that identifies laws, rules, policies, activities, strategies, and practices that enhance or undermine the American people's confidence in the integrity of federal elections processes.

As the Commission begins its work, I invite you to contribute your views and recommendations throughout this process. In particular:

1. What changes, if any, to federal election laws would you recommend to enhance the integrity of federal elections?
2. How can the Commission support state and local election administrators with regard to information technology security and vulnerabilities?
3. What laws, policies, or other issues hinder your ability to ensure the integrity of elections you administer?
4. What evidence or information do you have regarding instances of voter fraud or registration fraud in your state?
5. What convictions for election-related crimes have occurred in your state since the November 2000 federal election?
6. What recommendations do you have for preventing voter intimidation or disenfranchisement?
7. What other issues do you believe the Commission should consider?

In addition, in order for the Commission to fully analyze vulnerabilities and issues related to voter registration and voting, I am requesting that you provide to the Commission the publicly-available voter roll data for Minnesota, including, if publicly available under the laws of your state, the full first and last names of all registrants, middle names or initials if available, addresses, dates of birth, political party (if recorded in your state), last four digits of social security number if available, voter history (elections voted in) from 2006 onward, active/inactive status, cancelled status, information regarding any felony convictions, information regarding voter registration in another state, information regarding military status, and overseas citizen information.

You may submit your responses electronically to ElectionIntegrityStaff@ovp.eop.gov or by utilizing the Safe Access File Exchange ("SAFE"), which is a secure FTP site the federal government uses for transferring large data files. You can access the SAFE site at <https://safe.amrdec.army.mil/safe/Welcome.aspx>. We would appreciate a response by July 14, 2017. Please be aware that any documents that are submitted to the full Commission will also be made available to the public. If you have any questions, please contact Commission staff at the same email address.

On behalf of my fellow commissioners, I also want to acknowledge your important leadership role in administering the elections within your state and the importance of state-level authority in our federalist system. It is crucial for the Commission to consider your input as it collects data and identifies areas of opportunity to increase the integrity of our election systems.

I look forward to hearing from you and working with you in the months ahead.

Sincerely,

Kris W. Kobach
Vice Chair
Presidential Advisory Commission on Election Integrity

From the Mailbag

I read your article on the release of voter information, criticizing the Star Tribune of fake news. I looked up the Statute and found the following: Requests to examine or obtain information from the public information lists or the statewide registration system must be made and processed in the manner provided in the rules of the secretary of state. This was taken directly from the Statute. I believe that you are wrong in your assumption. You have now made FAKE NEWS!

- Eldon Holmes

Editor's Response:

The language specifically quoted by Mr. Holmes in the middle of Subdivision 4 of Minnesota Statutes 201.091 simply directs the Office of the Secretary of State to create rules as to how voter registration information may be obtained.

On the Office's website, the request form allows statewide or more localized data to be requested. Information may be provided on mailing labels or CD. There is a fee that applies to each type of request. In addition, if one were to stop by their office, there is a computer terminal which can also be used to obtain information at no cost.

The Secretary of State does not determine what voter registration information is public or non-public. This is a matter of law.

For example, the beginning of Minnesota Statutes 201.091 Subdivision 4, states what voter registration information is public.

Subdivision 9 of the law states what voter information is non-public or private.

Subdivision 5 of the law states that the Office "shall" provide information to any registered voter in Minnesota.

Minnesota law does not allow public voter registration information to be withheld by any Secretary of State because they personally do not agree with the politics of the person making the request.

JOBLESS IN SEATTLE

For years, conservatives have argued that increases in the minimum wage produces a downside.

Labor, after all, is a commodity, and therefore a cost carried on the books at any business.

Government interference in the normal supply-demand curve that sets wages in any industry is bound to create unintended consequences, said conservatives.

That downside, the thinking went, would manifest itself primarily in job and hour losses.

When the price of something goes up, and producers lacking pricing power to recover those increased (and artificial) costs, there will be less of that thing.

In other words, make labor too expensive, and you will get less of it.

Liberals, not surprisingly, dismissed the warnings out of hand.

As with most of their policies, there is a myopic belief that only the utopian promises will be realized. Kind of like a toddler at Disneyland.

Seattle provides an excellent case study to test the competing theories, as that city jacked minimum wages through the roof, setting a course to raise the wage to $15 per hour.

At least one academic study just published has given serious credence to the fears of conservative thinkers.

A team of economists at the University of Washington just released a study that empirically demonstrates that a super-charged minimum wage led to steep declines in jobs for low-wage workers and a reduction in hours for those still employed.

The kicker is that the high minimum wage also led to an overall decline in earnings for low-wage workers.

In other words, Seattle's minimum wage led to significant economic harm to the very people the law was intended to help.

Huh.

Just like the way welfare traps people in poverty instead of lifting them up.

Just like the way VA healthcare harms veterans instead of making them well.

Just like the way gun control makes streets more dangerous instead of less dangerous.

Another liberal Utopian dream dashed on the shoals of reality.

New Laws Effective July 1, 2017

The following is a list of select new laws passed during the 2017 regular and special legislative sessions that take effect July 1, 2017. The asterisk following the bill number denotes the language that became law. Summaries of all laws passed by the 2017 Legislature in regular and special sessions are available online from nonpartisan House Public Information Services at <http://www.house.mn/newlaws/#/search/2017>.

AGRICULTURE

New law includes money designated for plant pests, noxious weeds

Sponsored by Rep. Rod Hamilton (R-Mountain Lake) and Sen. Torrey Westrom (R-Elbow Lake), the omnibus agriculture finance law appropriates more than $120 million from the General Fund during the upcoming biennium to fund the Department of Agriculture ($106.24 million), Board of Animal Health ($10.87 million) and Agricultural Utilization Research Institute ($7.58 million).

The Department of Agriculture appropriation includes money designated to expand capabilities for the rapid detection, identification, containment, control and management of high priority plant pests and pathogens, as well as grants to local units of government responding to noxious weed threats.

Other provisions of the new law that are effective July 1, 2017, include:

- establishing a new pollinator habitat and research account in the agricultural fund for pollinator research and outreach work at the University of Minnesota that includes identifying science-based best practices and establishing habitat beneficial to pollinators;
- appropriating up to $1 million each year for the University of Minnesota to conduct research on avian influenza, including prevention measures;

- an increase to $125 on the waste pesticide program surcharge for each registered nonagricultural pesticide product;

- establishing a wolf-livestock conflict prevention pilot program; and

- appropriating $200,000 each year for the industrial hemp pilot program.

The law does not include delays for implementing the 2015 buffer law, but does have a provision allowing landowners, who file compliance plans with their soil and water conservation districts by Nov. 1, 2017, to receive compliance waivers giving them until July 1, 2018, for implementation. The date for buffers, or alternative water quality practices, to be in place on public waters remains Nov. 1, 2017, and Nov. 1, 2018, on public ditches.

BUSINESS AND COMMERCE

Off-sale Sunday liquor sales can begin July 2

Minnesotans will be able to purchase alcohol on Sundays from a liquor store.

Sponsored by Rep. Jenifer Loon (R-Eden Prairie) and Sen. Jeremy Miller (R-Winona), a new law removes the prohibition on off-sale Sunday liquor sales, allowing stores to sell alcohol between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m., and barring those stores from receiving deliveries on Sundays. This law also prohibits wholesalers from making deliveries, soliciting orders or merchandising on Sundays.

Credit unions can embrace technology in conducting business

A new law will scrap the requirement that credit unions must mail or hand its members special meeting notices and instead allow them to contact members through electronic means.

Sponsored by Rep. Kelly Fenton (R-Woodbury)

and Sen. Andrew Mathews (R-Milaca), the law also adds "other verifiable means" to how credit unions conduct elections. Prior to the law's passage, credit union members had to vote by mail-in ballot.

More data on complaints against appraisers to be classified

Real estate appraisers facing disciplinary action will be given more privacy by changing the classification of certain state-collected data and not count informal or unfinished complaints against them.

The law will also require real estate appraisers renewing their license to disclose in background checks any new crimes "involving moral turpitude" or "related to" the job.

Sponsored by Rep. Tim O'Driscoll (R-Sartell) and Sen. Karin Housley (R-St. Marys Point), the law will shift data relating to disciplinary actions to "classified"; state that informal complaints cannot count against appraisers as formal complaints; and disciplinary data against appraisers will be made private after five years. The law will also add a six-year limitation to private right of actions.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Jobs, economic development funding boasts $14 million in new workforce training

A $373.8 million portion of the state's two-year $46 billion budget assigns $14 million in new money for the state's workforce development efforts, including a new student apprenticeship program. It also reduces some building permit fees, changes inspection fees for wind and solar systems, and makes changes to workers compensation funding and intervention.

The omnibus job growth and energy affordability finance package will provide $194.3 million for the Department of Employment and Economic Development, $107.6 million for the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency, $46.6 million for the Department of Commerce and $15 million for the Public Utilities Commission, among other agencies. It's filled with grants, loans and various appropriations funded through different state departments.

Rep. Pat Garofalo (R-Farmington) and Sen. Jeremy Miller (R-Winona) are the sponsors.

The Department of Employment and Economic Development's slice of the spending package aids everything from a $2 million renovation project for Minneapolis-based Pillsbury United Communities and $300,000 for St. Paul's East Side Enterprise Center to $250,000 for the Small Business Development Center at Minnesota State University, Mankato and $2.6 million in Thief River Falls for Digi-Key-related projects.

The law includes funding for the Metropolitan Economic Development Association for business development and entrepreneur services, workforce assistance for White Earth Nation, the Minnesota

Investment Fund and a reimbursement for a "small resort business" in Isle "whose business was adversely impacted by a decline in walleye fishing on Lake Mille Lacs."

The two-year, $61.6 million appropriation for workforce development includes $3 million to Pathways to Prosperity; $2.6 million for the Minnesota High Tech Association's SciTechsperience STEM program; $2 million for Construction Careers Foundation career pathway initiative; $1 million for a women and high-wage, high-demand, nontraditional jobs grant; and $1 million for youth-at-work competitive grants.

Twin Cities R!SE will receive $3 million for training "hard-to-train" individuals; EMERGE Community Development will receive $2 million for African and African-American joblessness;

$1.5 million goes to Latino Communities United in Service for culturally tailored programs; Resource, Inc. will receive $1 million; and the YMCA in St. Paul will receive $500,000.

Housing Finance Agency funding includes nearly $30 million to address the disparity rate between white households and indigenous American Indians and communities of color, $17 million in family homeless prevention and assistance programs and $13 million for housing rehabilitation and $8 million in rental assistance for people with mental illness.

EDUCATION

Education finance law increases school funding

After months of negotiations over the best approach to reduce the student achievement gap, a new law increases overall education funding and shifts pre-kindergarten education investments into early learning scholarships and school readiness programs.

Sponsored by Rep. Jenifer Loon (R-Eden Prairie) and Sen. Carla Nelson (R-Rochester), the law spends $18.75 billion during the 2018-19 biennium, a General Fund base increase of $483.4 million, or 2.6 percent.

The law increases General Education Basic Formula funding by 2 percent per year — an additional $371.5 million in base funding.

It also appropriates $117.36 million in combined school readiness, and mixed delivery prekindergarten and school readiness plus funding as well as $140.41 million for early learning scholarships.

School readiness plus programs will provide early learning opportunities to 4-year-olds who demonstrate one or more risk factors. A school district or charter school that did not apply to participate in a voluntary pre-k program would be able to apply for funding by July 1, 2017. A school district or charter school that did apply to participate in a voluntary pre-kindergarten program may amend its application by July 1, 2017, to apply instead for school readiness plus.

Other provisions in the law require school boards to negotiate unrequested leave of absence plans with teacher representatives as well as a $15.3 million appropriation for the Perpich Center for Arts Education.

The law also ushers in the teacher licensure overhaul, providing $3.36 million over the biennium for a new licensure system implementation and Professional Educator Licensing and Standards Board administration.

ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES

Omnibus law includes outdoors fee increases

Higher fees for hunting and fishing licenses are included in a new omnibus environment and natural resources law.

Sponsored by Rep. Dan Fabian (R-Roseau) and Sen. Bill Ingebrigtsen (R-Alexandria), the law appropriates more than $870 million during the 2018-19 biennium.

Direct appropriations in the new law include:

- Department of Natural Resources – $569.72 million
- Pollution Control Agency - $202.03 million
- Explore Minnesota - $30.01 million
- Board of Water and Soil Resources - $28.48 million
- Minnesota Zoo - $18.53 million
- Metropolitan Council - $17.08 million
- Science Museum of Minnesota - $2.16 million
- Conservation Corps - $1.89 million
- School Trust Administration - $1.1 million

The law includes a number of new fees for hunting and fishing licenses, increasing the cost of a resident fishing license from $22 to $25 and a deer license from $30 to $34, along with increases to licenses in a number of other areas. The increases are meant provide new revenue for the dedicated funds meant to support those activities.

HF771/SF844*/CH93

New law appropriates more than $500 million in Legacy funds

A new law will appropriate millions of dollars for projects aimed at improving the state's water quality, and the state's other natural and cultural resources.

Sponsored by Rep. Bob Gunther (R-Fairmont) and Sen. Carrie Ruud (R-Breezy Point), it appropriates $529.56 million during the upcoming biennium from the four funds established by the Clean Water, Land and Legacy Amendment in 2008 to benefit the state's natural and cultural resources.

The appropriations include: $211.87 million for the Clean Water Fund, $123.36 million for the Arts and Cultural Heritage Fund, $104.56 million for the Outdoor Heritage Fund and $89.76 million for the Parks and Trails Fund.

The Clean Water Fund appropriation includes $22 million for grants to the state's 90 soil and water conservation districts to help them comply with the 2015 buffer law meant to improve water quality and assist with other costs.

There are also $3 million in CWF appropriations to help fund the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program, which pays landowners to retire environmentally sensitive land from production to help improve the environment. Gov. Mark Dayton signed an agreement with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in January to secure $350 million in federal funding for the program, but the state must commit $150 million of its own money.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts will receive $5 million to help implement buffers or alternative water-quality practices. Of that total, $2.5 million can be used outside the Conservation Reserve Enhancement Area – the 54 Minnesota counties designated with the highest need for improving water quality and protecting habitat.

The law provides $5 million to the Department of Agriculture's Water Quality Certification Program to help implement approved farm management practices that improve water quality. That money should help leverage an additional $5.2 million in federal funds for the program.

Minnesota Management & Budget is required to submit a report to the Legislature by Oct. 1, 2017, for each of the four funds detailing the amount used from each to reimburse the General Fund for indirect costs, such as overhead expenses, and how those cost allocations align with the legacy amendment's constitutional requirements.

Other appropriations in the law include:

- $46.3 million for grants to support Minnesota artists and arts organizations for high-quality arts activities, overcoming barriers to access arts activities and instilling the arts in community and public life;
- $17.7 million for grants for parks and trails of regional significance outside the seven-county Twin Cities metropolitan area;
- $8.05 million for grants to the Minnesota Public Television Association;
- $3.5 million for the Minnesota Zoo;
- $3.2 million for Minnesota Public Radio;
- $2.7 million for Como Park Zoo; and
- $1.2 million for the Science Museum of Minnesota.
